Dave Marcantonio - Web Applications Developer

davidmarcantonio@gmail.com

GitHub! (Not much to see at the moment. New projects coming soon!)

Mission Statement: After working professionally on full stack development, and back end programming in equal parts, I find I am more passionate about the former. Currently seeking employment in either domain.

Currently Learning: Laravel, Composer, WordPress Plugin Development, Amazon Redshift

Professional Experience

Java Developer
Hubub
Ottawa/Toronto, Ontario
February 2014 – Present

- Contributing in development for Java back end data processing for a social media website
- Heading development on website metadata and image scraping
- Maintaining user interaction, notification, moderation processing, and search functionality
- Maintenance and bug fixing for all Java back end code
- Performing testing and logging of bugs, and improvements
- Participates in the conceptualization of upcoming features and development initiatives

Technologies: Java, Amazon Web Services (DynamoDB, SQS, Cloudsearch, Redshift), Hibernate, Spring, Apache Storm, JMX, Jsoup, Git, Maven, Log4J, JIRA, Jenkins, SonarQube, PostgreSQL, MySQL

Programmer Analyst (CS-02)
Canadian Heritage Information Network, Government of Canada
Ottawa, Ontario
November 2012 – February 2014

- Front end, back end, and database development on data dictionary web applications
- Updated various web applications to meet Common Look and Feel, and Web Accessibility Standards (WCAG 2.0). This involved the reworking of many legacy components

Technologies: Java, JSF, MySQL, MyBatis, Endeca, PHP, Maven, Subversion (TortoiseSVN), HTML, CSS

Programmer Analyst / Consultant
University of Ottawa
Ottawa, Ontario
November 2011 – September 2012

- Responsible for the conversion of the uOttawa Co-op Navigator front and back end to several other iterations
- Adding new features, trouble-shooting and fixing bugs via issue tracking software
- Writing scripts to adapt the current database to a new format
- Working alongside colleagues to find solutions and strategies in development
- Used version control software, and regularly regular deployments to development site

Technologies: C# .NET, nHibernate, MSSQL, CSS, Subversion (TortoiseSVN), IIS 6, Windows Server 2008
Programmer / Support Specialist
DTH Software
Ottawa, Ontario
August 2011 – October 2011

- Developed database functions for the open source version of the company's VOIP billing software (www.opencdrrate.org), as well as assisting with online support and installations of the current version

Technologies: PostgreSQL, IIS 7, Remote Desktop Protocol
Team Lead / Software Engineer
Applied Research and Innovation
Ottawa, Ontario
May 2011 – August 2011

- Responsible for delegating and managing the workflow of a small to research, scope, and develop a prototype XACML policy software product for Devera Logic Inc.

Technologies: Java, Subversion (TortoiseSVN), Redmine

Scholarly Projects
Team Lead / Software Engineer
Ottawa, Ontario
September 2010 – May 2011

- Developed a Drug Trend Mapping System for the Drug and Organized Crime Awareness Coordinator of the RCMP
- Responsible for delegating and managing the workflow of a small team of student software developers through the analysis, development and testing phases

Video explaining the system: http://goo.gl/FndMu
Technologies: C#, .NET, MSSQL, LINQ, IIS 7, Tortoise SVN

Education

Algonquin College of Applied Arts and Technology
Advanced Diploma, Computer Engineering Technology – Computer Science, 2008 – 2011

Algonquin College of Applied Arts and Technology
Diploma, Interactive Multimedia Developer, 2004 – 2006